ANNIE DAVIS TO

Hayes Filly Looks Capable of Winning the Feature at Delmar To-Day.

IMBODEN HAS A CHANCE.

Cole Colt Should Defeat Flagstaff
and John Doyle—Ethel's
Pride to Capture First Event.

The feature of to-day's racing at Delmar is the fourth race, an allowance affair for $500, in which seven speedy thoroughbreds will go six and one-half furlongs.

As the race is framed, it seems that Anne Davis should win, and the price against her should be enticing. The others are not out of it by any means, but Anne Davis has enough speed to take care of herself with the lot she opposes.

Gay Lizzette ran such a sparkling race her last out that she seems capable of giving an argument to the Hayes filly, and should be not worse than second.

Maister, with 107 pounds, will find a large and enthusiastic following. This horse figures to offer the sternest contention, and on some of his races would win here, but it looks to be Anne Davis's day. Gay Lizzette is speedy and game, and should be ahead of the Gay horse at the finish. Felix Moizes looks outclassed here.

The second race presents the most attractive speculating medium, where Mint Bed seems far and away the best of the twelve horses in the mile and a sixteenth race. She figures out in the light principally owing to the uncertainty attached to Joe Lester's form. The old beams horse, if he is as good as when he was taken away for "killing," would win, but he has done nothing lately to justify selecting him. He will likely be favored.

Kingstella has the speed, but cannot last the route. Second Mate won his last race, but is not likely to repeat.

Flagstaff's last race was so good that he becomes prominent in the fifth race, and Imboden will probably take his measure. Tommy Knight is likely primed for this race.

The third race is between Essie Mc and Ollie Burnett, with the chances favoring Ollie.

Turnando should win the last, a mile and seventy yards for 3-year-olds, while Ethel's Pride seems the best in the first.

FIVE LATONIA FAVORITES WON.
Francis Dillon, the only winning Long Shot, won 12 to 1 in the Cincinnati, Oct. 27. Five favorites won at Latonia to-day. Francis Dillon at 12 to 1 won the second race easily from UNITED BLOOD.

Columbus, Ohio, May 19, 1903.
Some four years ago I was suffering from impure blood and a general run-down condition of the system. I had no appetite, was losing flesh, and had an aching tired feeling that made me miserable. I began the use of S. S. S., and after taking seven or eight bottles my skin was cleared of all eruptions and took on a ruddy, healthy glow that assured me that my blood had been restored to its normal, healthy condition. My appetite was restored, as I could eat anything but before me, and as I regained my appetite I increased in weight, and that "tired feeling" which worried me so much disappeared, and I was once again my old self. I heartily recommend S. S. S. as the best blood purifier and tonic made, and strongly advise its use to all those in need of such medicine. VICTOR STRUBBINS, Cor. Barthman and Washington Aves.

Wheeling, W. V., May 28, 1903.
My system was run down and my joints ached and pained considerably. I had used S. S. S. before and knew what it was, so I purchased a bottle of it and have taken several bottles and the aches and pains are gone, my blood has been cleared and my general health built up. I can testify to it as a blood purifier and tonic. 1533 Market St. JOHN C. STRUBBINS.

ADEN BREAKS SIX-
FURLONG RECORD

Son of Atheling Covers Distance
in 1:13.14 With 126 Pounds
Up, Lowering Local Mark
Half a Second.

Aden, W. D. Stringer's 5-year-old son of Atheling, showed himself to be a great horse in the feature event at Delmar yesterday, when he packed 126 pounds and ran the six furlongs in 1:13.14, breaking the record for this distance by half a second. The record has been held by Peaceful since August 31, 1901, when he covered the route in 1:13.74, with 104 pounds.

Aden outran his field at all stages and won, pulled up, by five lengths. It was a great race, and had the horse been ridden out, he might have clipped a quarter off his time.

When the barrier snapped Aden was fourth to get in his stride, but before the first quarter was reached, he had got to the front, and was leading the field by a length. At the three-eighths pole he had opened up a gap of six lengths, and was breezing along at will.

Into the stretch he still maintained this lead and showed no signs of tiring. McMillen kept a tight rein on him, and just let the horse run as he pleased. When the twenty-yard pole was reached, the rider eased him up and he was under the wire five lengths in front of Ouden.

When McMillen returned to the judges' stand, Aden appeared as fresh and frisky as when going to the post, and looked capable of going another mile.

The books figured that the weight would stop at 13 to 1. He was well played at that price. Folies Bergeres was favorite at 30, but she fell and was unable to finish third. Ouden was in light and ran a good race, finishing second.

Always faithful was "good thing" in the opening event, and he romped home ahead of the heavily played favorite, Tor.

In the second Wafel showed her class by easily defeating Ollie Burnett and Arly played, but she fell and threw her rider soon after the start.

Always faithful was a handy winner in the third race, beating Victor and Oza.

Tabby Toss, Ingolthrift led to the seventh and won, but he fell and threw his rider coming on and winning by a head. Mae Day showed a burst of her old-time speed, but after setting a dizzy pace with Ingolthrift.

George Vivian sent his backers to town in a happy mood, when he came home first in the last race.

MINOR LEAGUES TO HAVE HIGHER CLUB RATING.
National Association of Professional Leagues Indorses Proposition to Have Superior Body.

New York, Oct. 27.—After two days of routine business and sightseeing, the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues to-day took the most important action of its present convention when it adopted a resolution to have a superior body.

The association voted, after much opposition from the present lower class leagues, to add the new class, subject to the approval of the National Commission, and the National Board of the association was empowered to appear before the National Commission in January in favor of the proposition.

Heretofore the association has consisted of Classes A, B, C and D leagues. Class A was privileged to draft players from any of the lower classes on payment of an established fee, and the two major leagues, the National and American, which are parties of the first part to the national agreement, were privileged to draft from the association's members.

In the past the fees for drafting players from the four classes were $50, $30, $20 and $10, respectively. All but the proposed Class A and class B leagues opposed the change on the ground that they have lost too many players under the four-class rule, and the adoption would subject them to further drafting.

The high fees were adopted as a sort of compromise with the opponents of the new class. If approval is given by the National Commission, Class A will be composed of the American Association, the Pacific Coast League and the Eastern League, and Class A of the Southern and Western leagues. All were formerly in Class A, except the Southern League, which has advanced from Class B.

The National Board of the National Association will meet the members of the National Commission in Cincinnati in January.

The National Board to-day elected George T. Hean of Louisville of the American Association, and J. H. Farrell of Auburn, N. Y., of the New York State League as members of the board.

The board also elected the members of the board are: Eugene F. Burr of San Francisco, president of the Pacific Coast League; Griffith of Jersey City, of the Eastern League; T. H. Munn of Boston, president of the New England League; and M. H. Kavanagh of Little Rock, president of the Southern League.

The association voted to depart from its rule not to play exhibition games outside of national agreement clubs. Games will be played with semi-professional, professional and amateur clubs when such games do not conflict with the club's regular season, and when the clubs are not with the clubs which contain blacklisted players or players who are otherwise ineligible to play on national agreement clubs.

Though already stringent, the rule concerning the employment of a "contract jumper" was more tightly drawn in that a player who hereafter jumps a contract will be forever disqualified.

It was voted to meet next year in San Francisco.

FOOTBALL

PURDUE TO PLAY
THE TIGERS TO-DAY

Teams Will Line-Up in What Promises to Be Hard-Fought Contest.

MISSOURI IS THE LIGHTER.

Columbia Team Under Coach Mc-Lean's Direction Will Send in Small Set of Men—
Chances of Teams.

Missouri and Purdue will meet at the World's Fair Stadium this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in what promises to be one of the fastest and hardest football games of the season in the West.

On form, the two teams are considered among the topnotchers of this section of the country, and should furnish a great game.

Purdue has a slight advantage in weight, and is picked to win, although others say that the Tigers will come out best on speed.

The Missouri team, together with a large number of students, arrived last night and all appear to be in fine condition. Coach McLean of the Tigers is confident of winning, although he says that he knows that he is up against a hard proposition.

"The team that will be on the field tomorrow will be the lightest that ever represented Missouri, although the boys are in fine condition, and I think that they will come out first," said Coach McLean.

"The ends are light, being Salisbury and Hall, the former a St. Louis boy, and Hedrick, the quarter back, is way below the average weight of the players."

"The team is probably the same that played Kentucky University."

"When we played the Haskell Indians we were much heavier than now. We had plenty of 'beef' on the team at that time, but the men were so slow that I sacrificed the weight for the speed that we now have."

There are two St. Louis boys on the team, Salisbury and Foster. The former played with High School last year and was looked to win again this season, but went to Columbia, and soon was a regular member of the team. He weighs only 140 pounds, but is a trouble in the other end.

Foster was a student of the St. Louis school, and is now playing guard on the Tiger team.

Purdue has a strong team, as can be seen from the list of players. The team is composed of eleven, but reports say that Purdue is coming to win and will put up a strong fight against the Tigers.

Many students and citizens will arrive at the stadium to-day and take part in the Missouri University Day exercises at the World's Fair. A section of the grandstand at the stadium has been reserved for the Tiger followers, and they will cheer their players.

The line is given out by the coaches, is as follows:

W. U. AT PRACTICE.
Washington University and St. Louis University teams put in light practice at their training parks yesterday. Both will have a lay-off to-day, and each, with their coaches, will attend the Missouri-Purdue game at the stadium.

As there is no chance for Washington and St. Louis meeting in what would be the local championship, this will be about the only way that the superiority of the teams can be decided.

Both will try to beat or hold Missouri down to the lowest score, and both Coach Delaner and Coach Boynton are confident of victory.

training their men in an effort to make the better showing.

That is the reason that the players will attend the game to-day. They will be instructed to watch the playing of the Tigers and when they line up against them they intend to solve some of the plays and thereby possibly beat the Missouri team.

Washington University plays the University of Texas team at the stadium tomorrow and this game promises to be one of the fastest in which the local eleven has yet played.

Texas is reported as having one of the strongest teams of the South and comes with a good record.

Boynton has been practicing with his men all week and giving a great deal of individual instruction to them. He does not care much about the Texas game, although he expects to win. He is more anxious about the Missouri game a week later.

MANUAL VS. SMITH.
Manual Training School and Smith's Academy will play at League Park tomorrow afternoon. Both teams will be about on an equal, and this game should be a good one among the lightweight class.

Smith started out at a poor note, but has been improving as the season advances. Manual has not had the experience this season that has been the case with Smith, but has plenty of material and the prospects for a good team is bright.

Both teams are trying hard for the championship of the intercollegiate league, and when the time comes they say that they will be able to beat High School.

Christian Brothers College team will line up against the Lombard College of Illinois at the college campus to-morrow afternoon. The game promises to be one of the two teams, but C. B. C. has a great speed, expects to annex the game.

KEOGH BEATS WESTON AT POOL.
Buffalo Player Defeats "Cowboy" In Interesting Match for Tournament Honors at Broadway.

Jerome Keogh of Buffalo, N. Y., defeated Charles (Cowboy) Weston in an exciting match at the Broadway championship tourney last night, by a score of 15 to 9.

The Buffalo man played his usual good pool, and had Weston beaten almost from the first game.

Weston did not show as good form as in his former tournament games. His stroke did not have the directness that characterizes his work, and he fell down on several combination shots.

Keogh made a high run of thirty-three, while Weston made a high run of twenty-two. Keogh beat Weston by a score of 15 to 9.

Weston's last run was a high one, but he was out of the running, but should be O. O. Weston followed him up with a victory over Weston to-morrow night. It will mean a three-rounder tie for first place between the two players.
